What is batyr?

batyr is a 'for purpose' preventative mental health organisation, created and driven by young people, for young people. We run programs that help smash the stigma surrounding mental health and empower young people to reach out for support. We help create supportive communities.

We are an energetic, fun and dynamic team who are passionate about changing the way we speak about mental health. Excitingly, we are on the hunt to build our team with even more passionate, skilled and driven people to continue to develop our high-performance culture and expand the reach and impact of batyr. If you want a workplace where you can bring all of your full, weird and wonderful self to the office each day, this is the place.

About you

Your dream job lets you to chat to people about the stuff that you care about. You might not have the gift of the gab but whatever you have - it is pretty damn close. Your confidence allows you to dive into conversation with those around you on almost any topic. Jumping up in front of 150 teenagers might scare you (or maybe not!) but you're excited to give it a crack. Wherever you find yourself, you quickly adapt to the situation without dropping a beat or losing what matters to you.

You are driven by one of two things - entertaining via great storytelling or making the world a better place one (large group) conversation at a time. If you are both, then you might just be who we are looking for. Or a unicorn. But we hire them too.

Position Summary

Program Facilitators are responsible for the 'on-the-day' delivery of our batyr@school, batyr@uni, batyr@work & Being Herd programs.

batyr takes trained young people with lived experiences of mental health to schools, universities & workplaces to share their personal story. The Program Facilitator's role is to oversee and implement the delivery of batyr programs in an engaging and educational way. A key function of the Program Facilitator is ensuring a safe and supportive environment for the individuals sharing their story as well as the students attending.

The programs are focused around the engagement of young people and include discussions, team challenges, multimedia and video clips. This role requires someone who can engage and interact with young people in a dynamic and entertaining way, has a very strong ability to improvise and can confidently deliver sensitive material. Successful candidates should be able to think on their feet, have a strong ability to take on feedback and direction and adapt language and delivery to differing environments.

Key Responsibilities

- Engaging young people in mental health education in large group settings
- Representing batyr at local, state and national level as a public speaker
- Reviewing and developing the content of batyr programs
- Supporting the administration and reporting of the program including data entry and report writing
- Liaising with key contacts on the session day where required (school teachers, batyr staff, university staff)
- Work as part of a team, with the batyr staff including the delivery of training workshops and other youth programs such as mental health forums

Selection Criteria

- An active interest in working with young people to tackle the stigma around mental health
- Outstanding interpersonal skills, both orally and written, with presentation and facilitation experience
- A confident personality and a love for presenting and facilitating
- An understanding of secondary education and learning processes that will enable the delivery of first-class programs
- Excellent organisational skills
- Creative problem solving skills and an opportunity focused mindset

How to apply:

We will only accept applications that are submitted as follows:

- Email a CV & Cover Letter in Word or PDF format
- Include your location and state
- Provide a link to a video on youtube answering these three questions:
 1. Who you are and what you're about
 2. Why you would make a great facilitator
 3. If you had a superpower what would it be and why?
- Your video should be no longer than 60 seconds

Successful applicants will be required to attend a two day workshop in their region between the dates of 11th March - 22nd March. If successful we will advise of what dates we require you for.
